About Maintenance Supplies, LLC...

Commercially known as Branson Supply, Maintenance Supplies' commitment is to bring you trusted brands with the service you expect, and was founded on the premise, "Big or small, we sell it to all", and we work every day to keep true to those words. Maintenance Supplies was founded in 2013 by Mitch L. Branson to support the industrial supply market with more personal commitment to service and continues to service the Maintenance Repair Operations (MRO) community for nearly three decades. Many product supplies fall under the MRO marketplace, which includes a diverse selection of consumables ranging from absorbents, cleaning chemicals, fasteners, fire detection/safety, janitorial tools, and worker safety.

Maintenance Supplies has an experienced and well-versed team of quality-controlled workers. Our professionals are responsible for updating products, research and development, and conducting diligent testing to ensure that customers can be equipped with a product that fits their need. Our commitment to bring you brands that you trust with a service you expect. Maintenance Supplies has over 40 years of collective experience performed within the MRO industry.

With decades of experience with working in the Maintenance Repair operations community, Mr. Branson quickly identified a significant gap between customers and their supply order process. His initial focus began providing regional support to state and local government agencies, wineries and industrial business operations. Knowing with greater customer relevance and being more efficient, the process would be easier.

"Provide a robust online Industrial Supply platform focused on service and selection"

Our Mission Statement: "Provide a robust online Industrial Supply platform focused on service and selection." Customers are at the focal point of everything we do at Maintenance Supplies. We know our customers have many choices when it comes to industrial supplies, and our dedicated team works tirelessly to combine the highest level of service into every buying experience, making orders as seamless and efficient as possible. Our numerous nationwide distribution centers optimize our supply chain performance by extending expedient shipping relevant to our buyers. From the beginning we have kept our message short and clear. Brand you trust. Service you deserve.
