AK Products and Services

AK creates customized training programs for federal agencies and facilities. We work in most available media: online, video, print, and live. AK specializes in emergency preparedness planning and life safety training, however we regularly produce training programs on a wide range of other topics. We produce:

- Online Training, Testing, and Reporting
- Training Program Development
- Emergency Response Plan and Training Program Development
- Emergency Plan Diagrams
- Video Training Programs
- Print Training Materials
- Live Training

Online Training, Testing, and Reporting. AK develops online training programs for government agencies, schools, and corporate clients. We create instructional programs in a variety of media, including online video, Flash, PowerPoint, and print. Our online training software delivers the instructional program, administers tests, and generates reports on training activity.

Training Program Development. AK develops custom training programs for corporations, government agencies, and schools. Our programs range from simple, straight-forward print materials to broad-based campaigns incorporating a wide variety of media and training methods.

Emergency Response Plan and Training Program Development. AK is one of the country's most experienced developers of fire and life safety plans and training programs. AK fields everything from initial risk assessment and plan audits on through full plan development and training programs for staff, emergency floor teams, and building occupants.

Emergency Plan Diagrams. AK produces emergency plan diagrams for a wide range of governmental and private-sector facilities. These diagrams show the location of building safety systems, hazards, egress routes, etc.

Video Training Programs. AK produces training and instructional videos for a wide range of commercial and governmental clients worldwide. While our specialty lies in life safety and emergency preparedness training, we regularly produce programs on other topics.

Print Training Materials. AK also produces high-quality print training materials such as brochures, bound flip-books, quick-reference cards, and manuals.

Live Emergency Preparedness Training. AK's network of experienced life safety trainers provide dynamic, engaging live training programs for the staff, emergency teams, and occupants of office buildings, schools, and warehouse & industrial facilities.
