About Us

Air Impurities Removal Systems, Inc. (A.I.R. Systems, Inc.) began developing the unique Extract-All™ line of air cleaning systems in the late 1980's. As the demand for ergonomically friendly, truly versatile, compact air cleaning systems increased, the Extract-All™ line has developed into a trend setting product mix.

We pride ourselves in our ability to accommodate a wide range of customers. Universities, Hospitals, Laboratories, Dental Labs, Jewelers, Government Facilities, and a wide range of Industrial Facilities, both domestic and international, all count on us to provide compact fume extraction systems that offer a high level of filtration.

Concern for indoor air quality is growing for a number of reasons. Perhaps the most significant is employee safety. Extract-All™ air cleaning and fume extraction systems comply with OSHA- mandated standards for personal safety while offering several fringe benefits. A safe environment and improved workplace health translates into heightened employee morale, increased worker productivity, decreased absenteeism and, in some cases, reduced insurance costs. Furthermore, clean air often enhances the performance of machinery and even curbs maintenance costs.

Our compact Air Cleaning and Fume Extraction Models along with our Extractor Arms are designed to handle small to medium size applications. Air Impurities Removal Systems, Inc. is dedicated to providing the finest equipment and highly competitive pricing and we will continue to develop unique new products for decades to come.

We welcome the opportunity to add your company to our fine family of satisfied customers.
