COMPANY INFORMATION:
RPT has experienced Tactical field operators that can assist in all facets of your operational needs. RPT employs numerous senior level Retired Military Veterans from a variety of Special Operations and Homeland Security backgrounds. This expertise is instrumental to keep abreast of the latest Special Equipment and technologies from both Manufacturers and Special Operations Units. This expertise enables U.S. to consistently advise our customers as necessary on the latest products and developments. Our company focuses on professionalism in customer relations, expert knowledge in specialized equipment, Training Techniques, procurement, and the tactical application of numerous military systems.

HISTORY:
RPT has a large product line of the best in Tactical Equipment offered by U.S. Manufacturers today. We offer competitive pricing and a sole source advantage for all tactical equipment. Many of us manufacturers rely on RPT as their sole source for all their product exports. As a sole source provider, we minimize the logistical difficulties associated in dealing with multiple vendors, which ultimately saves you cost, personnel hours and time.

RPT teams with several U.S. Companies providing consulting and training. These teaming arrangements allow RPT to provide a full range of training from basic courses to high level mission requirements. We provide initial assessments of personnel, structure and community operations and facilities. This assessment enables RPT to customize a training package that provides the customer with a current readiness projection as well as a detailed plan to procure the necessary equipment and train required personnel on the overall mission and individual techniques.

RPT is registered with the United States Department of State as an Exporter/Temporary importer pursuant to the International Traffic in Arms regulations (ITAR Part 122) and the Arms Export Control Act (AECA). Additionally, RPT is registered as a Broker under ITAR part 129. RPT Consulting purchases all products sold directly from the manufacturer and pays the manufacturer in U.S. Dollars and RPT deals directly with the agent or end user in the foreign country. This process allows RPT to acquire all export licenses and control the flow of paperwork. No foreign company or agent is allowed by U.S. Law to acquire licenses.

RPT can advise end users on ways to contract and purchase items within the rules and guidelines required by their government and often works with “in country” representation as needed or requested. by the end user. Our knowledge of the U.S. contracting system and U.S. Government programs has enabled us to help end users to identify and write contracts that allow us to streamline purchases, hold inventories and expedite shipping to the foreign customer.

RPT works with many manufacturers within the United States with international distribution agreements in place. We also work with the end users to approach manufacturers of products we do not represent to allow U.S. to sell specifically to certain end users who RPT has contracted with as a representative or contract holder. All shipments are consolidated and pre-screened within the U.S. to ensure trouble free deliveries and to keep shipping and handling costs to a minimum.
