Defense Holdings, Inc. (DHi) is a world-class team of dedicated engineering professionals committed to developing and deploying innovative technologies to advance the national interest and improve the lives of all Americans. DHi has been a proven provider to professional engineering and program management services to DoD since 1994.

Since 1994, DHi has been regarded as a small business leader in providing System Engineering and Technical Assistance support to Government agencies, contributing to their success by helping Federal program managers successfully confront challenges and meet critical objectives. DHi provides top level Federal and DoD decision makers with timely assessments that analyze or propose solutions addressing technical, operational, and programmatic issues in high-visibility programs. We assist our customers in developing and executing highly technical programs and introducing advanced technologies which contribute to end user value and satisfaction.

DHi's current emphasis centers on our Photoluminescent Safety Solutions® business and other product lines developed for Department of Defense customers. We have a dynamic business area centered on the innovative use of modern Photoluminescent (glow-in-the-dark) materials. DHi has been a leader in every aspect of the high performance Photoluminescent industry, including Research and Development, specifications and standards, product development, manufacturing, Low Location Exit Path Marking (LLEPM) system design, integration, installation and consumer education. To date, DHi has successfully installed life saving PL exit path markings and signage in 108 massive office buildings in New York City and is the sole LLEPM provider throughout the Pentagon and several other Federal Agency Headquarters buildings in Washington, DC. As an experienced partner to the Federal Government, DHi's PL safety solutions include engineered and tailored exit-marking system design; accurate cost estimates and highly specialized, experienced installers.

A service-disabled veteran-owned, minority small disadvantage business, DHi has been an ISO 9001:2000 registered company since 2003. We always conduct business with quality in mind.

Our goal at DHi is not merely customer satisfaction...it is customer delight.
