Supplemental Information

I-FSS-125 REQUIREMENTS EXCEEDING THE MAXIMUM ORDER (AUGUST 1997)

- (a) In accordance with FAR 8.404, before placing an order that exceeds the maximum order threshold, ordering offices shall—
- (1) Review additional schedule contractor's catalogs/price lists or use the GSA Advantage!TM on-line shopping service;
 - (2) Based upon the initial evaluation, generally seek price reductions from the schedule contractor(s) appearing to provide the best value (considering price and other factors); and
 - (3) After price reductions have been sought, place the order with the schedule contractor that provided the best value and results in the lowest overall cost alternative (see FAR 8.404(a)). If further price reductions are not offered, an order may still be placed, if the ordering office determines that it is appropriate.
- (b) Vendors may:
- (1) Offer a new lower price for the requirement (the price reduction clause is not applicable to orders placed over the Maximum Order in FAR 52.216-19).
 - (2) Offer the lowest price available under the contract; or
 - (3) Decline the order. Orders must be returned in accordance with FAR 52.216-19.
- (c) A delivery order that exceeds the maximum order may be placed with the contractor selected in accordance with FAR 8.404. The order will be placed under the contract.
- (d) Sales for orders that exceed the Maximum Order shall be reported in accordance with GSAR 552.238-72.

Booz Allen Advantage

Why choose Booz Allen for environmental services? Booz Allen brings unparalleled resources to its clients.

Quality — Booz Allen is globally recognized as a quality provider of consulting services. We have won numerous awards across the government for business improvement initiatives, including multiple Hammer Awards, the National Intelligence Meritorious Unit Citation, the Top Contractor Award from the Defense Information Systems Agency, and the Federal Technology Leadership Award. A majority of our clients engage us for additional work, offering further testament to our strong reputation and the value we provide to our customers.

Experience — With our breadth and depth of experience, Booz Allen offers a rich consulting skill base and management commitment to applying our world-recognized capability to innovatively reach program objectives. Our insights and understanding of requirements regularly translate into cost savings and performance efficiencies measurable in terms of reduced learning curves, high quality of service, and effective use of leading-edge information technologies. We strive to hire and maintain economic and business professional staff, allowing Booz Allen to be a premier provider of quality services to our customers. We have served civilian, military, and intelligence agencies; state and local governments; and not-for-profit agencies in projects covering a wide range of financial and business services. These services are described in more detail in the following sections.

Well-Defined Management Practices — Booz Allen has spent years refining our management practices with the goal of developing a quality product that meets or exceeds client expectation, delivered on time and in budget. Our efforts have not gone without reward; much of our business is follow-on tasks for existing clients. This proves that Booz Allen delivers what we promise and achieves superior customer satisfaction. Our management approach is to provide a single point of responsibility, the task manager, with the charter of delivering the final product. That is not to say the manager works alone; the full complement of Booz Allen resources is available to assemble the right team to deliver the right results. Attention is paid to quality at Booz Allen, with defined standards and processes used throughout the firm. The quality assurance manager is responsible for ensuring that best practices are followed and that they meet client standards, as well as Booz Allen's standards.

Benefits of Using the GSA Environmental Services Schedule

GSA's Environmental Services Schedule multiple-award contracts are intended to provide federal agencies and others with a quick and efficient means of dealing with their environmental needs. With the specific exception of hazardous waste site excavation and remediation, this contract vehicle provides clients with services spanning all aspects of environmental planning, assessment, program management, compliance, and training.

GSA Advantages

GSA has facilitated the acquisition of commercial services for customers by establishing GSA Schedule contracts. Under the Federal Supply Schedule program, GSA enters into government-wide contracts with commercial firms to provide products and services at pre-approved prices and for a given period of time. This streamlined procurement approach significantly reduces the time required to obtain services because GSA has reviewed firm capabilities, negotiated rates, and pre-qualified commercial firms to provide services. The advantages of the Schedules program include—

- Reduction in time required to obtain services (usually a few weeks)
 - Synopsis is not required
 - Competition requirements have been met (FAR 6.102(d)(3))
 - Rates determined to be fair and reasonable
- Can be used by all federal agencies
- Agencies can order directly from the contracted vendor—no transfer of funds to GSA
- No maximum order limitations
- Blanket Purchase Agreements can be used to customize your solution
- Contractor teaming and subcontracting is allowed

Booz Allen's Environmental Service Offerings

Today, environmental management is a universal concern. Government agencies and corporations around the world are seeking timely, cost effective ways to control environmental risk. Booz Allen has a long and successful track record in providing environmental management and technology services to assist clients in achieving environmental objectives. Our support to federal organizations such as EPA, DoD, DOE, FAA, DOT and DOI spans the full range of regulatory requirements, policies, and programs surrounding environmental cleanup, compliance, pollution prevention, conservation, outsourcing, privatization, and occupational safety and health.

Booz Allen has a large staff of highly qualified environmental safety and health professionals. We have conducted numerous assignments pertaining to all major statutes that affect environmental and occupational safety and health programs, including CERCLA and its amendments, RCRA and its amendments, the Clean Air Act (CAA), the Clean Water Act (CWA), the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA), the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and the Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSH Act). We have found through this experience that most assignments require an integrated, multi-disciplinary team. Our team of professionals—with backgrounds in science, engineering, public policy, and environmental studies—offers a comprehensive and practiced understanding of the issues involved in environmental advisory and management services.

The SINs are listed below along with examples of the types of tasks that could be included under each. These are examples only and are not meant to exclude or limit any (non-excavation or remediation) environmental services under this schedule.

Environmental Planning Services& Documentation (SIN 899-1)

An increasing number of environmental protection laws and regulations require federal agencies to incorporate environmental considerations into their activity planning. While not all-inclusive, the following are examples of environmental planning and documentation services:

- National surveys
- Natural resource management plans, studies, and consultations
- Strategic planning/Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA)
- Geographic Information Systems (GIS)
- Coastal zone management plans
- Comprehensive land use management plans
- Endangered species, wetlands, and watershed studies and reports
- Archeological, historical, and cultural resource plans, studies, and consultations
- Human health risk assessments, hazard assessments, feasibility analyses, exposure assessments, and risk analyses
- Economic, regulatory, and technical analyses
- Public meetings, public hearings, and expert witness/testimony

Environmental Compliance Services (SIN 899-2)

Booz Allen's environmental compliance services are focused on helping clients develop and manage programs that achieve and sustain compliance, pollution prevention, and continuous improvement through best management practices, information management, and implementation of life-cycle management systems. The following examples of environmental compliance services:

- Environmental compliance audits/assessments
- Compliance management plans
- Regulatory permit application process
- Pollution prevention surveys, business investment strategies, recycling plans
- Full life-cycle compliance tracking and data management

Environmental/Occupational Training Services (SIN 899-3)

Booz Allen's training courses are developed using the classical instructional systems design (ISD) methodology developed by Florida State University and modified by federal agencies and the U.S. military. A detailed list and description of our existing training courses and associated rates is included as Appendix B. Training services can also be tailored to agency specific environmental needs. The following broad categories of environmental topics are covered by existing training courses:

Hazardous Substance and Oil Response and Remediation

- Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA)
- The Superfund response process

Remote Advisory Services (SIN 899-6)

Federal government customers need and expect easy and reliable access to information. Booz Allen has demonstrated with a number of clients that telephone advisory services deliver a proven and flexible method of enterprise and public access to environmental information. Our telephone advisory services include:

- Environmental "Hot Line" services
- Internet web sites solutions—databases and technical libraries
- Compliance support
- Spill response support
- Waste management support
- Hazardous material classification and MSDS support
- Industrial hygiene support

Geographic Information Services (SIN 899-7)

Federal organizations are increasingly using geographic data to help make better decisions, visualize spatial information, and improve access to information about areas of the Earth. Federal customers need to effectively create, store, manage, and disseminate this data and further analyze it using geographic information systems (GIS). Booz Allen brings extensive knowledge and experience in providing GIS solutions for the management, planning, modeling, and mapping of environmental and related information. Through the use of GIS and other information technologies (IT), Booz Allen provides an ideal combination of environmental and IT expertise enabling efficient management of resources affecting areas such as federal lands, base realignment and closure properties, Brownfields properties, facilities, military installations and ranges, surface/waste water, costal areas, threatened and endangered species, airports, and airsheds.

Our GIS services often support public outreach efforts, community data gathering, NEPA analyses, environmental rulemaking, restoration activities, natural resource planning, site selection, migration pattern analysis, pollution analysis, emergency preparedness, and knowledge management activities. Our broad-based GIS offerings include:

- GIS needs and best practices assessments
- GIS development
- Interactive web mapping tools
- Modeling and information management
- Curriculum development and training
