Advanced Language Systems International

Integrity · Perfection · Quality

EXPERIENCE

Our client list comprises numerous Federal Government agencies, including various branches of the Department of Justice, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Federal Bureau of Prisons; the Department of Homeland Security (DHS); the Census Bureau of US Department of Commerce; and the Internal Revenue Service, to name a few,

Needless to say, we also regularly keyboard these languages in their native fonts, regardless of the uncommonness of alphabets or the left-to-right or right-to-left direction of texts.

Under all contracts, we provide language services 24 hours per day 7 days per week. In doing so, we consistently meet the contractual requirement to deliver all projects, their size notwithstanding, within 48 hours. We are proud to be the only language company in the country to exceed such stringent requirements. In fact, we process multiple work requests concurrently and deliver many projects within 24 hours, averaging 100,000 words a day. However, should our clients require larger volumes of workload, we are happy to accommodate them and work to even surpass this significant achievement.

FACILITIES AND TECHNOLOGY

ALSI's language and production facility is currently headquartered in Rockville, Maryland.

We have reproduction and data processing equipment that has been approved for processing Government materials, as well as a number of safes with which to temporarily store hard copies before their complete destruction or return to clients upon completion of projects.

Sensitive materials are sent to ALSI by current clients via Internet in encrypted format or picked up by ALSI cleared personnel directly from their facilities. ALSI's clients can also easily send unclassified documents to ALSI via the Internet, using our servers and high-speed internet. We can receive and transmit data at the rate of 28 Mbps and 13 Mbps respectively, ensuring fast receipt and rapid insertion into our document tracking and translation system.

LINGUISTS

In contracting ALSI, you will engage a knowledgeable and adaptive language services provider with all the built-in flexibility necessary to meet and exceed every technical, management, and contractual specification you require.

Advanced Language Systems International

Integrity · Perfection · Quality

ALSI has more than 6500 interpreters and translators currently available in 200+ languages. Our linguists are certified with high-level training and expertise in fields such as law enforcement, defense, science, technology, law, economics, and medicine. They employ years of experience providing services to both government and private clients.

ALSI linguists are screened and tested for their skills and added to the ALSI database according to their level of certification. Each translator/interpreter has to go through an initial training once he/she becomes a member of ALSI team and has to take annual review training. The training is based on National Standards of Practice for Interpreters and a specially developed orientation program designed by ALSI staff, which, in turn, is based on the requirements of the Interagency Language Round Table (ILR) for translation and interpretation.

The ILR Language Competency standard is ALSI's forte, given the fact that we have developed eight test batteries in five languages based on the ILR specifications for language competence for the IRS, the modules of which were put into operational use in 2006. Furthermore, in 2003, one of ALSI's principals developed validation tests for the FBI to measure the conformity of their existing tests to the ILR requirements.

CLEARANCE PIPELINE

Because ALSI has a number of ongoing programs that require cleared linguists, we are always in the business of updating the clearances of candidates and employees. The corporate mindset of ALSI is to keep a cleared linguist working, even if one project reaches completion. As employees become eligible for greater access, they are transferred to other contracts. The breadth of ALSI's past projects has enabled us to create a pipeline of candidates with varying degrees of access.

TRAINING

In addition to initial training and testing, ALSI staff translators/interpreters are given evaluations every 30 days, for the first 6 months of their employment with ALSI. These evaluations include rigorous testing, feedback from clients, and feedback from our Quality Control Division. This information is imputed into ALSI's evaluation form, graded, and put into the staff member's permanent file.

Our trained linguists are ready for any type of assignment. In addition to the services mentioned above, ALSI sends linguists to the client's location as a contracted staff member for a specific period of time. We provide this service at a discounted rate and for any length of time. Our ability to provide translators and interpreters for full-time, contract, overnight, weekend, or holiday work, for any length of time, with little or no notice, sets ALSI apart from the rest.

CERTIFICATIONS AND BACKGROUND TESTING:

Points of Importance:

- ALSI works with a variety of sensitive projects
- ALSI has linguists with security and Top Security clearances in all listed languages and American Sign Language
- All interpreters have criminal and medical background check and drug testing

Here at ALSI, we work with a variety of different vendors, and often we work on material of a sensitive nature. For these types of projects, we use our in-house translators.

Due to the sensitive nature of many projects, an additional safety measure has been instituted here at ALSI. We now require that each interpreter go through a criminal and medical background check and a drug test.

Proof-of-certification quotes for each linguist, including individual scoring and the name of the administering agency, can be provided upon request.

HANDLING OF MATERIALS

ALSI appreciates the extremely sensitive nature of the material our clients entrust to use. Based on our extensive experience with similar contracts, we take all reasonable precautions to ensure that the materials provided for transcription and translation and the resultant files we produce will not be seen, handled or heard by persons other than those who require access to these materials in order to actually produce the projects in question.

Any employee who is expected to handle sensitive or restricted material executes the requisite Non-Disclosure Agreement, the original of which is maintained by ALSI. The need-to-know policy is strictly adhered to and no information is commingled with any other information or maintained at any other contractor's facility.

TECHNOLOGY AND TECHNICAL SERVICES:

Points of importance:

- Proven track record of producing transcriptions and translations in any required format (MS Word, Excel, printed documents such as emails, websites, and audio and video files) in their native fonts from a variety of source media,
- "Language Proficiency Testing Systems (LPTS)" Software
- Specialized Computer Based Training (CBT), now used by the IRS
- Online scheduling and quote request systems
- Availability of interpreting and translation services with little or no notice

Advanced Language Systems International

Integrity · Perfection · Quality

The knowledge and skill of our Computational Linguistic division was also demonstrated in 2005, for example, when ALSI developed a proprietary software application called “Language Proficiency Testing Systems” (LPTS), a tool for efficient, objective and automated testing of proficiency in various languages. Currently, this software is used to certify IRS reviewers/editors for foreign language publications.

Another of ALSI’s developments is in Computer-Based Training (CBT). This specialized system provides modules as refresher courses for several languages. The IRS uses eight of ALSI’s CBT modules.

AVAILABILITY AND TURNAROUND

For short notice requests, all of our clients are provided with three cell phone numbers.

Turnaround time for Standard transcription/translation is 5-7 business days, Expedited is 3-5 business days, and Emergency is 1-2 business days. As a matter of practice, however, ALSI typically delivers even Standard and Expedited transcriptions/translations within 2 business days.

MEMBERSHIPS

ALSI is a member of the following organizations:

- Better Business Bureau (BBB)
- American Translators Association (ATA)
- Association of Language Companies (ALC)
- National Association of Sign Language Interpreters in the USA
- Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf (RID)
- National Council on Interpreting in Health Care.

We make every effort to actively participate in these organizations’ conferences and committees in part to keep our Translation and Interpreting Team informed of all industry updates, developments and requirements, as well as to keep current the glossaries we maintain for our linguists.

Frequently Asked Questions

In what languages are translation and interpreting services offered?

ALSI offers services in more than 200 languages and dialects. We can meet almost any language requirement with our extensive network of translators and interpreters. Please, contact us to discuss your specific needs.

How can I be certain that the translation will be accurate?

ALSI utilizes a unique, four-part quality control system that ensures translations will be technically accurate and culturally appropriate. After the initial translation is complete, a second translator reviews both the original and translated text. The document is then processed by a quality assurance specialist to ensure that every aspect from spelling to formatting meets our high standards. Before returning a completed translation to the client, a project manager personally reviews and approves the document.

How long will it take for translation of my document to be completed?

We are committed to working with our clients to meet deadline requirements. Our standard turn-around for transcription/translation is 5-7 business days, Expedited is 3-5 business days, and Emergency is 1-2 business days. As a matter of practice, however, ALSI typically delivers even Standard and Expedited transcriptions/translations within 2 business days. Technical documents may require additional time. We can provide rush services; however, translation quality is our primary concern. All translated documents go through a multi-step editing and quality review process before being returned to the client.

Does ALSI provide certified translations?

Upon request, we can provide notarized certification on ALSI letterhead, attesting that the translation is a true, accurate, and correct rendering of the original document. These certifications are accepted by government agencies, including the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services (formerly INS), and judicial courts. All of our translations undergo rigorous quality control regardless of certification.

How much notice does ALSI need to provide an interpreter?

To ensure the availability of an interpreter with the precise background and experience that your assignment requires, you should contract well in advance of your assignment. We are usually able to comply with last minute requests, but interpreters especially for simultaneous assignments may be booked weeks or even months in advance.

What is the difference between consecutive and simultaneous interpreting and which type do I need?

A consecutive interpreter provides a subsequent oral translation of a speaker's statement while the speaker pauses. The interpreter may interject after several sentences or after a single word. A simultaneous interpreter provides constant translation as the speaker talks. Often, simultaneous interpreters use interpreting equipment and work from soundproof booths. Simultaneous interpreting is generally appropriate for large meetings and high-level conferences. Our project managers will work with you to determine how best to meet your interpreting needs.

What kind of voice-over services does ALSI offer?

ALSI works with professional narrators and studio technicians to provide foreign language narrations of marketing, educational and entertainment videos to clients throughout the United States. Contact us to learn more about ALSI's voice talent and technical expertise.

SCA MATRIX AND APPLICABILITY STATEMENT

The following Service Contract Act (SCA) matrix and language are hereby incorporated into the contract:

| Labor Category | SAC Equivalent Title and Code | Wage Determination Number |
|-----------------------|--------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Translator | Foreign Language Translator - 30110 | 87-0989 |
