Performance Management: Using the right combination of skilled and experienced practitioners and academicians, Coffey is able to assist your organization with a range of quantitative and qualitative models and analyses to improve performance measurement, integration and management. Staff and outside subject matter experts help you define and develop reasonable bases for establishing appropriate measures for new or existing goals for data and programs.

Program Evaluation: Coffey understands that policymakers need rapid analyses and assessments of programs in order to make improvements and document impacts. We rely on staff and consultants with extensive expertise in a range of discipline, such as statistics, economics, econometrics, mathematics, finance, program management and related fields to ensure that the appropriate talents are brought to bear in developing workable solutions. We use both standard and innovative approaches in conducting program evaluation, whether they involve process, outcome or impact.

Besides the typical process improvement activities, we can perform high-level and detailed process modeling and simulations.

Organizational Assessments & Design: Coffey can help you identify the processes that will tell you what is out of balance and what is working effectively within your organization. We can work on the design side, helping you balance organizational resources to achieve desired results. At a minimum, those resources include input, goals, employee energy, task requirements, feedback, systems and group dynamics. Coffey can also provide operational assessments that can lead to recommendations for aligning operations with the strategic and organizational focus of the entity or subunit.
Facilitation:

Change Management: Change is a driving force within your organization. The ability to develop the strategies to manage, implement, and educate your team and members to embrace and appreciate what effective change or transformative management can do for your organization is a critical component of positioning for changing behavior and culture. We ensure that this component is part of our change management implementation.

Decision Support Systems: As part of our quantitative capability, Coffey uses operations research techniques along with mathematical and statistical modeling to help you in formulating structural approaches for making policy and other choices. We work with you to take advantage of science, art, and human nature to inform decision making.

It is a method of building dynamic, high achieving systems within an organization. A key goal of promoting continuous improvement is to embed it in the way the organization conducts its daily activities. Coffey can apply the Malcolm Baldrige Criteria for Performance Excellence or elements of other quality systems, such as the ISO 9000. We can also assist with benchmarking, lean projects and Six Sigma engagements.

Grants & Contract Management: Training your supervisors and staff for grant and contract management is customized based upon your requirements.

The Service Contract Labor Standards (SCLS) is applicable to this contract as it applies to the entire Multiple Award Schedule and all services provided. While no specific labor categories have been identified as being subject to SCLS due to exemptions for professional employees (FAR 22.1101, 22.1102 and 29 CRF 541.300), this contract still maintains the provisions and protections for SCLS eligible labor categories. If and/or when the contractor adds SCLS labor categories/employees to the contract through the modification process, the contractor must inform the Contracting Officer and establish a SCLS matrix identifying the GSA labor category titles, the occupational code, SCLS labor category titles and the applicable WD number. Failure to do so may result in cancellation of the contract.
