EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Central Research is a Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business (SDVOSB), certified by the Center-for-Veterans Enterprise (CVE). We are also a Vietnam-Veteran Owned and a Small Business Administration (SBA) certified 8(a) firm.

Johnny Dillard, PhD, co-founded Central Research in 1999 with his son Scott Dillard, MBA. Dr. Dillard served in the Marine Corps during the Vietnam War, and later rose to the rank of Army National Guard Lieutenant Colonel, while simultaneously working throughout his career as a federal employee for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Over the past decade, Central Research has led multiple Prime contracts in support of several federal agencies. Our proven experience, capabilities and attention to providing exact-fit personnel that meet customer requirements successfully distinguishes our Value Proposition to our customers.

Central Research is a financially-secure, successful, and growing firm of approximately 60 employees. We are dedicated to providing employment to individuals of our nation's most sensitive of population cohorts, with over 45% of company employees being Veterans, disabled Veterans, and spouses of Veterans.

Central Research's core business competencies are:

- Records/Document/Information Management Solutions.
- Freedom of Information Act/Privacy Act (FOIA/PA) Support.

We thoughtfully manage and administer contracts from two office locations: (1) our primary Program Management office conveniently located in the heart of Washington DC; supported by (2) our company headquarters in Lowell, Arkansas. On current contracts, Central Research affords the government an experienced, low-risk choice, and consistently delivers maximum value on behalf of our client.

Our approach to satisfying each of our client's requirements with proven, Prime-contractor proven small business management skills will provide future clients with increased operational efficiencies, a committed partnership, and long lasting value to their program.
