KIP Warranty Policy

KIP Standard Warranty

The KIP Standard Warranty is 180 days from KIP's date of invoice. KIP Warranty Conditions apply to the KIP Standard Warranty policy.

KIP Warranty Conditions

KIP's warranty does not cover photoreceptors, glass parts or service parts. The warranty covers parts that fail during the warranty period due to manufacturer defects but not including operator misuse. KIP warrants that replacement parts shall be free from defects in materials and workmanship for 90 days from invoice date. KIP's sole liability on account of being in breach of this warranty is limited to the replacement of defective replacement part at no cost to the customer except that the customer at its expense shall return the defective replacement part (unless otherwise requested by KIP) to KIP which shall become KIP's property at the customer's expense. KIP's decision as to whether a replacement part is defective shall be final and binding. The customer shall only return a part if KIP authorizes the return.

System K Controller & Software

- a) The KIP controller is a computer designed to be dedicated to image processing for the KIP device. Using the controller as a print server or for a file repository may cause performance issues.
- b) KIP is not liable for any loss of user's file(s) or accounting data which is stored in the controller hard drive, regardless of loss event.
- c) Formatting the hard drive, modifying the system software or hardware, adding any additional software on the device voids the products warranty.
- d) Please review the software's EULA supplied with each product prior to device use.

Return of Goods

- a) Any part(s) that have been authorized by KIP for return, need to be packaged correctly in the original materials to protect from damage. KIP is not responsible for any damage during shipment.
- b) Any electronic part must be unopened in its original packaging.
- c) Any modifications or changes to a part, voids the warranty.
- d) Any parts used to diagnose/troubleshoot issues are non-returnable and should be kept by the customer for future use.
- e) Return Requests should be submitted at www.KIP.com
